

Oregon Birds

Subject Index
Volumes 23-38 (1997-2012)
Linda Stumbaugh, Peregrine Indexing

Multiple entries are provided for many articles. For example: "An inland record of Pomarine Jaeger" is indexed under "county data," "records" and "species" to facilitate retrieval of information about county sightings, records and individual species.

Titles about individual bird species are indexed under "species" according to order. Passeriformes are further indexed by family. Classification follows The American Ornithologists Union.

Where there are differences between index pagination and tables of contents, index entries reflect actual page numbers. This is the case for 32(2) and 33(3). Page numbers in volume 26 (all issues) are consecutive with volume 25.

Time-sensitive materials, such as announcements about Birding Weekends or Christmas Bird Count dates are not indexed. Material such as pull-out checklists or material repeated in each issue is not indexed.
