

Oregon Institute of Marine Biology display cases

I am delighted to let you know that the two bird display cases are now in. Once the interpretive panel is added to the cabinet, a wood strip replaces the blue tape. The OBA funds covered most of the cost of the vitrines (the acrylic cases) – for which we are very grateful!

Additional funds allowed us to expand the project with cabinets (with drawers for bird related specimens – feathers, bones, etc.), two spotting scopes, and additional interpretive panels.

Thank you for your support of our effort to get information on birds into the Charleston Marine Life Center.

Trish Mace

Director, Charleston Marine Life Center

Oregon Institute of Marine Biology

July 2018

