

Oregon Birding Association

Oregon Fund for Ornithology

The mission of the Oregon Birding Association is to further knowledge, education, enjoyment and science about birds and birding in Oregon.

The Oregon Fund for Ornithology is a source of funds to help further the mission of the Oregon Birding Association across Oregon. The funds can be used for education, research, habitat restoration, and other projects. However, the funds cannot be used to purchase land or be used for closing costs associated with a land purchase. OBA is willing to provide funds in conjunction with other donors.

Instructions:

- Submit your application electronically by email (board@oregonbirding.org) or hardcopy by mail (Oregon Birding Association, PO Box 675, Lincoln City, Oregon 97367-0675).
- Your proposal can not exceed 14 pages, including all maps, photos, budget sheet, and designs.
- If your proposal is accepted:
 - Your use of the funds gives the Oregon Birding Association permission to post your report(s), including photos, on our website and Facebook pages.
 - You must submit a 1-2 page report to the OBA board at the conclusion of your project. We may publish some or all of the information in the Oregon Birds journal.
