

2020 Oregon Listing Results Summary

Paul T. Sullivan, McMinnville, OR

The Covid-19 pandemic threw a curve ball into the way Oregon birders went about birding in 2020. Birders traveled less to the far corners of the state, instead birding closer to home; we made more visits to the county next door. A flurry of notable birds at Baskett Slough NWR drew many birders to log a Polk county list. Stay-at-home birders also had time to sit down and tally up various lists they hadn't previously compiled. For many birders eBird has made keeping personal lists easier and this has added to the number of lists reported.

Look at the counties with a significant number of new county life lists reported:

13	Benton	11	Harney	9	Polk
12	Clackamas	9	Hood River	12	Tillamook
11	Clatsop	11	Klamath	7	Wallowa
13	Columbia	11	Lake	9	Wasco
8	Curry	7	Lane	14	Washington
14	Deschutes	10	Marion
8	Douglas	9	Multnomah

Look at the counties with a significant number of new county year lists reported:

7	Columbia	7	Lake	12	Polk
6	Deschutes	5	Lincoln	5	Wasco
6	Harney	6	Multnomah

New participants also joined in other categories:

6	Favorite Refuge
12	Favorite Spot
18	Yard List

We welcome the 15 new participants who boosted to 157 the number of birders submitting data to these 2020 Oregon Listing Results (a new high number of participants). To give context to this year's numbers, I have carried forward numbers from 176 other birders, plus 29 deceased birding friends.

In total, these Oregon Listing Results include the efforts of 362 birders spanning the last 40 years.

(When we began compiling Listing Results in 1980, 30 people participated, six counties weren't represented, and the birder with the highest list had seen 376 species in Oregon.)

Notable statewide achievements in 2020:

Jeff Gilligan has tallied his lists and reports an Oregon State Life List of 510, the first person to break 500.

Mike Rodegerdts, Em Scattaregia, and Sally Hill passed the mark of 400 species on their Oregon State Life Lists. Seventy-nine birders have now reached that mark.

Sixty birders submitted State Year Lists for 2020. For the second year in a row, Nolan Clements posted a state year list that earned a spot in the top ten year lists of all time.

Participation in the Birds Photographed in Oregon category increased to 79 people. Tom Crabtree still tops that category with 438 species.

The Motorless Life List and Motorless 2020 Year Lists categories saw 25 and 6 participants, respectively. Tait Anderson tops the Life Lists with 305 and Andy Frank tops the 2020 Year Lists with 208.

The Western Oregon and Eastern Oregon Life list categories grew to 30 and 24 participants, respectively. Paul Sullivan tops the Western Oregon list at 413 and Tom Crabtree the Eastern Oregon list at 389.

Notable County Listing achievements:

Three more birders reached the goal of 100 species in each of Oregon's 36 counties: Tom Love, Aaron Beerman, and Jamie Simmons. Thirty-one birders have now reached that goal.

Five birders have reached 125 species in all 36 counties, three have reached 150, and one has reached 200 in all 36 counties.

Notable Local Listing:

Participation in the 15 mile diameter Circle Count drew 32 birders to report a Life List and 11 birders to report a 2020 Year List. Tom Crabtree leads the Life List at 290 and Trent Bray leads the 2020 year list at 232.

The new 5MR Count Circle idea, which focuses on a five mile radius around a birder's home drew 41 birders to report Life Lists and 20 to report a 2020 Year List. Hendrik Herlyn leads both the Life List at 270, and the 2020 Year list at 210.

The Favorite Refuge category drew 43 entries and the Favorite Spot category expanded to 46 entries.

Ninety-three yard lists are listed, representing a variety of sizes, habitats, and duration of observation. Everyone's yard list is noteworthy, just for the fact that it gets us paying attention, no matter the number of species. Backyard birds brought a lot of us some comfort and joy in this Covid-19 year.

Congratulations to everyone who participated!

We hope to hear from even more of our friends next year.

Thank you to Ken Chamberlain for helping post the call for listing results. Thank you to Caryn Stoess for her help setting up the website and getting the results published.

Good birding, everyone,

Paul T. Sullivan
