I was at Newbry Park in Talent yesterday, at the second to the last pond access, when this little bird landed in the bush right beside me. At first I thought it was a female brewer's but look at the mask-like markings around the eye. It looks like a male Rusty Blackbird in fall plumage. (When I say second to last access, I mean walking south on the path, that the last is the one where the cattails completely block the view.)
